JOSIAH TURNER, Jr., EDITOR.

AN ELOQUENT PASSAGE.—The finest thing Geo. D. Prentice ever wrote is this inimitable passage.

"It can not be that this earth is man's only abiding place." It cannot be that our life is a bubble cast up by the ocean of eternity to float moment upon its waves and sink in nothingness. Else why is it the high and glorious aspirations which leap like angles from the temple of our hearts are forever wandering unsatisfied? Why is it that the rainbow and cloud come over us with a beauty that is not of earth and then pass off to muse on their loveliness! Why is it that the stars which hold their festival around the midnight throne, are set above the grasp of our limited faculties, forever, mocking us with their unapproachable glory? And finally, why is it that bright forms of human beauty are presented to our view and taken from us, leaving a thousand streams of our affection to flow back in an Alpine torrent upon our hearts! We are born for a higher destiny than that of earth There is a realm where the rainbow never fades; where the stars will spread out before us like the islands that slumber on the ocean, and where the beautiful beings which pass before us, like shadows, will stay forever in our presence.

RECOLLECTIONS—Time mellows ideas as well as it mellows wine. Things, in themselves indifferent, acquire a certain tenderness in recollection; and the scenes of our youth, though remarkable neither for elegance nor feeling, rise up to our memory dignified at the same time and endeared. As countrymen in distant lands acknowledge one another as friends, so objects to which, when present, we give but little attention, are nourished in distant remembrance with a cordial regard. If in their own nature of a tender kind, the ties which they had in the heart are drawn still closer and we recall them with an enthusiasm of feeling which the same objects at the immediate time are unable to excite. The hum of a little tune, to which in our fancy have often listened; the course of a brook which, in our childhood, we have frequently traced; the ruins of an ancient building which we remember almost entire—these remembrances sweep over the mind with an enchanting power of tenderness and melancholy, at whose bidding the pleasures, the business, the ambition of the present moment fade and disappear. Our finer feelings are not more grateful to the fancy then moral to the mind Of this tender power which remembrance has over us, several uses might be made; this divinity of memory, did we worship it aright, might lend its aid to our happiness as well as our virtue.

CIGARS AND TOBACCO—A WARNING TO YOUNG MEN.—Nicotine is the active principle in tobacco, and in a concentrated form is one of the most virulent poisons known. Notwithstanding this fact, entirely different opinions have been entertained by the most respectable medical authorities respecting the effect of tobacco on the system; many asserting that its use in any form is baneful in the extreme, while others contend that a moderate indulgence in the narcotic weed is not only harmless, but positively beneficial to the health. The truth is, according to the New York Sun, that the effect it produces on different constitutions is various. Some people may smoke almost continuously without exhibiting any ill effects, while others are sensibly affected by the use of two or three cigars a day. A cigar is more likely to injure one than a pipe, because the cigar discharges directly into the mouth of the smoker everything that is produced by the burning. And there are those who, from an over indulgence in the questionable habit, live in a state of narcotism, or narcotic drunkenness, to the serious detriment of their mental organizations.

Perhaps no stronger argument against the excessive use of tobacco could be produced than that afforded by the melancholy example of a man of the highest position; whose case is now exciting great alarm in the minds of his friends. This individual, whose name we suppress from motives of delicacy, only eighteen months ago was in the full possession of vigorous intellectual powers, and was the object of general regard. For the last year, however, he has smoked so incessantly that, as a natural consequence, his faculties appear to be rapidly failing him, and the gravest apprehensions are entertained lest he should finally fall into a condition of absolute insensibility. This sad case should be a warning to young men.—Lynchburg News.

CHRISTIAN'S HOPE.—Dr. Richardson, in the second volume of the Memoirs of A. Campbell, gives an interesting anecdote of Robert Owen, the moral of which is valuable. Mr. Owen visited Mr. Campbell, at Bethany, to make arrangements for their approaching discussion on the evidences of Christianity. "In one of their excursions about the farm, they came to Mr Campbell's family burying ground, when Mr Owen stopped, and addressing himself to Mr. Campbell, said: 'There is one advantage I have over the Christian—I am not afraid to die. Most Christians have fear in death; but if some few items of my business were settled, I should be perfectly willing to die at any moment.' Well,' answered Mr. Campbell, 'you say you have no fear in death; have you any hope in death?' After a solemn pause, 'No,' said Mr. Owen. 'Then,' rejoined Mr. Campbell (pointing to an ox standing), 'you are on a level with that brute. He has fed until he is satisfied, and stands in the shade, whisking off the flies, and has neither hope nor fear in death.'"

EFFECT OF SALT ON THE BLOOD.—Dr. Stevens, a Scotch physician and surgeon, saw a butcher killing a pig. He observed that he stirred the blood of the animal, and added a handful of common salt to it while stirring, which immediately made it crimson, and on the stirring being discontinued the blood remained fluid. The change of the color of the blood awakened his curiosity. The butcher could give no explanation of the phenomenon except that it kept it from jellying and spoiling. Dr. Stevens seized a vessel, caught some blood, and made several experiments by putting salt in it and found that the blackest blood was instantly changed to a bright vermillion by salt. "Oh!" said he, "here is a fact which may lead to a practical rule." He had observed in case of yellow fever in the army that the blood drawn was very black and fluid, and on adding salt it became very million, and retained its freshness; whereas putridity of the blood is one of the charateristics of the yellow fever. He therefore abandoned the usual mode of treating it, and gave his patients a mixture of various salts, and in a very short time reduced the mortality of fever in the West Indies from one in five to one in fifty.

ALFRED WILLIAMS,

dec 22-tf Opposite the National Bank.

A PROCLAMATION,

By His Excellency, the Governor of North Carolina.

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
Raleigh, March 7, 1870.

By virtue of authority vested in me by the Constitution of the State, and by virtue of an act passed at the present session of the General Assembly, entitled "An act to secure the better protection of life and property," ratified the 20th day of January, 1870, and for the reason that the civil authorities of the county of Alamance are not able to protect the citizens of said county in the enjoyment of life and property, I hereby proclaim and declare that the county of Alamance is in a state of insurrection.

On the 26th of November 1869, a citizen of the United States, who was engaged in teaching a school in said county, was taken from his house by a band of men armed and disguised, and was, by them, hanged by the neck until he was dead on the Public Square in the town of Graham, near the Court House And more recently the Postmaster at Company shops, in said county, an officer of the Government of the United States was compelled to flee the county for protection, and while absent, a band of men armed and disguised visited his home with the purpose, doubtless, of taking his life; and this within a short distance of Federal troops stationed in said county, not to overawe or intimidate good citizens, but to preserve the peace and to protect the innocent and the law-abiding. In addition to these cases, information has been received at this department that peaceable and law-abiding citizens of the county aforesaid have been molested in their houses, have been whipped, shot, scourged, and threatened with further visitations of violence and outrage unless they would conform to some arbitrary standard of conduct set up by these disguised assassins and murderers.

I have issued proclamation after proclamation to the people of the State, warning off riders and wicked or misguided violators of the law to cease their evil deeds; and, by leading better lives, propitiate those whose duty it is to enforce the law. I have invoked public opinion to aid me in repressing these outrages and in preserving peace and order. I have waited to see if the people of Alamance would assemble in public meeting and express their condemnation of such conduct by a portion of the citizens of the county, but I have waited in vain. No meeting of the kind has been held. No expression of disapproval even, of such conduct by the great body of the citizens has yet reached this department; but on the contrary, it is believed that the lives of citizens who have reported these crimes to the Executive have been thereby endangered, and it is further believed that many of the citizens of the county are so terrified that they dare not complain, or attempt the arrest of criminals in their midst. The civil officers of the county are silent and powerless.

The laws must be maintained. These laws are over all. Every citizen, of whatsoever party or color, must be absolutely free to express his political opinions, and must be safe in his own house. These outrages and these violations of law must and SHALL cease. Criminals must and SHALL be brought to justice. The whole power of both governments, State and Federal, is pledged to this, and the power will be exerted. Criminals who may escape to counties adjoining Alamance will be pursued, and if not delivered up by the civil authorities of said counties, or if sheltered or protected in said counties, with the knowledge of the civil authorities, the said counties will also be declared to be in a state of insurrection.

I earnestly appeal to all good citizens to aid the civil authorities in maintaining peace and good order, and to support me in my purpose to protect life and property without regard to party or color.

Done at the city of Raleigh this 7th day of March, 1870, and in the 94th year of our independence.

W. W. HOLDEN,
Governor.

By the Governor:
W. H. HAIGHAM, Jr., Private Secretary.

MALIGNANT, YET FORGIVING.

On Friday last there was a bill before the Senate to incorporate an Insurance Company, the name of Gov. Vance appearing as one of the incorporators. Moore, of Yancey, moved to strike out the name of Governor Vance, because, he said, he had forced many Union men into the army.

One thing is certain; Vance did not force Moore, of Yancey, into the army, for, like Willie D. Jones, Moore, of Chowan, and the new editor of the Standard, he volunteered into the Confederate army.

Moore's motion was withdrawn, and the bill passed with Vance's name in it. Those who voted against the bill because his name was in it, are Davis, Moore, of Yancey, Bellamy, Burns, Smith, Stephens, (the chick a man,) White, Lindsay and Long Lindsay, of Rockingham, and Davis, carpet bagger, who cursed the lady in Montgomery and got a thrashing from her, made long and malignant speeches in favor of the motion to strike Vance's name out of the charter.

Davis said, as reported in the Standard:

"There were certain reasons which prevented him from ever voting for a bill that had his name in it. In our day in North Carolina he did not consider Vance a native of the State, let alone a citizen. His interest was not identified with the State or people of North Carolina, but on the contrary, was antagonistic to it."

At the time Davis was making his speech, two Senators had letters in their possession, from New Jersey, Davis' native place, showing that he was a man of bad character. These letters ought to have been read then and there.

Let the people remember that this Davis is a bosom friend of the Governor's, and his Treasurer of the Fayetteville and Western Railroad. He is as dear to the Governor as Laflin and that thief, Judge Alden, were in the early days of reconstruction.

Let the people remember that it was this Davis, of New Jersey, who cursed a lady in Montgomery, and that the lady drowned him with a chair for his want of manners.

We wish Mrs. Harris, the lady alluded to, had been in the Senate last Friday; she would have read the New Jersey letters.—We say, let the name of Mrs. Harris go down to posterity, for thumping the empty cranium of the carpet-bag vagabond. We sent her a number of presents, among them a common horse-whip and a thirteen-foot cowhide. We are opposed to women's voting, but we would like to see Mrs. Harris in the Senate sometime when Davies makes one of his characteristic speeches. Nor do we think the House would be the worse for the presence of a few such as she is. Littlefield would not so easily have dissolved the Committee of the Whole, if she had been there, nor would Laflin and Sinclair escape the castigation they deserve for insulting ladies on Rail road cars.

But the most remarkable speech on the occasion was that of old man Lindsay. The Standard reports him as saying, "But for Governor Vance, thousands of the citizens of North Carolina would not be sleeping in their bloody graves to day. We cannot reach certain men, but we can ostracise and expel their wives and daughters from respectable society; we ought to do it, and this is one of the men I propose to strike out here, not only on account of his former arbitrary and tyranical course, but for his present declaration, that reconstruction is an error."

When Mr. Lindsay goes home, he will find no decent man to approve his indecent and malignant speech. Groom, ex-Chairman of the Rockingham Board of Commissioners, who was arrested for offering negroes ten dollars to burn the houses of citizens, may endorse the speech, it is natural he should, but he will find few or none others who will do it.

As to Governor Vance murdering his son at Elmyra, he ought to remember that Gov. Vance did not have charge of the prison there. He ought to remember that Vance, as a member of Congress in 1860, was bitter against secession, and made a speech there foretelling its consequences.

It would have been much more becoming in the old man to charge the death of his son on his friend, Governor Holden, who signed the ordinance of secession; or upon Judge Thomas or Judge Dick, who signed with him, pledging the life of his son to make secession good, but taking care to keep their own precious carcases out of the fray.

What hypocrisy and malignity in Moore, Davis and Lindsay, to say they can't forgive Vance, but can forgive Holden, who devoted twenty years of his life to teaching secession—Holden, who signed the ordinance of secession—Holden, who dnounced Edwald Everett, John C. Breckenridge and Andrew Johnston as "three of the most elegant devils out of hell," because of their devotion to the Union—Holden, who was the first to inquire, "who will plot for the head of the Abe Lincoln?"—Holden, who, when Senator Moore and others deserted and went into the Federal lines, after having volunteered into the Confederate army, called, through the Standard, for the wives of deserters to be compelled to follow their husbands and not allowed to remain and eat out the substance of the Confederacy.

Davis, Moore and Lindsay can forgive all this outrage on the part of Holden toward Union men and their wives, but they can't forgive Vance, because he shouldered a gun with Moore and Lindsay's son to fight against Laflin, Estes, French, Deweese, Pilgrim Ashley, Tim Lee and the devil!

THE GOVERNOR'S PROCLAMATION.

Alamance county is declared by the Governor to be in a state of insurrection. Dr. Moore, the representative of the county, denies that it is so. Whatever the condition of that county may be, the Governor, his organ, the Standard, and his oath bound societies, the Leagues, should be held responsible for their share of it.

The Governor is President of the Leagues notwithstanding Pike's denial of the fact; for Pike was not a member. Jordan Potter, the President of the Oxford League, declared publicly, before a thousand people, that the Governor was the Grand President of the Leagues.

About the time the Legislature had before it a bill to allow any citizen to shoot down another who was in disguise or wearing a mask, a peaceable citizen of Chatham, while riding on the highway, was shot at, his leg broken and his horse killed. This was the work of the Leagues; the Standard approved of the shooting and urged others to follow the example set in Chatham.

Wiatt Outlaw, (negro) was President of the Leagues in Graham; about the time the Standard was calling on the negroes to shoot down all ku klux, wherever found, Wiatt shot at the ku klux, as they rode through the streets of Graham, at night.—He was afterwards heard to boast that he had shot at them, and he swore he would do so whenever they appeared. These facts we received from a Republican, who was raised in Alamance.

The Governor's proclamation informs us that, on the night of the 26th of February last, a citizen of the United States was hanged at Graham, on the public square.—Could anything more be expected, when the President of the Governor's secret society is urged by the Governor's organ to kill the members of another secret society? When they actually shoot at and wound them, think you they will not retaliate? think you they will not hang and shoot in return? This is a deplorable state of affairs and to be deprecated by every lover of law and order. We have time and again condemned it all. There is but one remedy under Heaven for it, and that is, for the Governor, as President of the Leagues, and the king or commander of the ku klux, to come together, shake hands, and agree to dissolve their accursed, oath bound, secret societies.

The Legislature of North Carolina.

SENATE

CONTINUATION OF FRIDAY'S PROCEEDINGS

On motion of Mr. Welker the rules were suspended, and the bill to incorporate the Policy Holder Life and Tontine Assurance Company of the South, was taken up.—Among the incorporators named in the bill are the names of Z. B. Vance, Alfred Dockery and V. C. Barringer.

Mr. Moore of Yancey moved to strike out the name of Z. B. Vance.

Mr. Graham, I call for the yeas and nays on this motion, that the people of the State may see who are in favor of keeping up strife, and who believe the war is not yet ended.

Mr. Lindsay, (Republican) this war is not ended yet, if this man had the power of continuing it. I know something about him, a great deal more than I wish to know, and I will never vote for a bill that has his name in it as one of the incorporators. I am willing to put my name on record.

They want to know if this war is ended. It is ended and I presume ended forever on any such grounds as it was inaugurated, but there is not a man on this floor but knows the course of Vance since the war closed; and sir, as I before remarked, I want to vote and want my vote recorded, and I don't care if it is written throughout the world and published throughout the Heavens, I will vote to expunge the name of such a man as Vance from any act of incorporation.

Mr. Jones of Mecklenburg, said: It is a matter of no concern to Governor Vance whether you suffer his name to remain in this bill or strike it out, but it certainly is something new in the history of legislation,—this enquiring into the politics of a man who simply asks to be made an incorporator in an insurance company; simply asks the privilege of joining in a legitimate business in a legitimate way. Do the supporters of this motion suppose for an instant that it is within their power, on this floor or elsewhere, to cast even the shadow of a reproach upon the name and fame of such a man as Governor Vance? If they do let me tell them here how signally they will fail, let me say to them that their efforts are strong only in malice. I do not intend to attempt a vindication of Governor Vance's character, it needs no vindication; the world has tried him by his record, and the verdict is written in history in one word "Glorious," and I will only say to those who assail him that that character is as far above my powers of illustration, as it is above their emulation or even their conception. Let them proceed, they may strike the name of Zebulon B. Vance from this bill, but let me tell them that they cannot strike it from the roll of fame, and they shall sooner level the granite crags of our mountains or stop the roll of our oceans than strike that name from its abiding place in the hearts of the people of North Carolina; and when they attempt it they simply "bite a file."

Mr. Davis, (Republican) There were certain reasons which prevented him from ever voting for a bill that had his name in it. In our day in North Carolina, he did not consider Vance a native of the State, let alone a citizen. His interest was not identified with the State or people of North Carolina, but on the contrary, was antagonistic to it. The declaration made by this man against the laws of the government of the United States, "That he would never ask the d—n government to pardon him," was another reason that he desired his name to be stricken out.

While he (Mr. Davis) had no prejudice against the brave soldier of the Confederacy whom he loved to sit down with and talk over the scenes of bloody strife, these men were brave and were reconciled to its results.

But this man Vance, never showed any such reconciliation. He had no political prejudice in this matter, but when declarations of this kind would be made against a great government which protected him in his life and property equally with himself, he thought such declarations rendered him unworthy of being considered a native of North Carolina, let alone a citizen of the United States. While he has no hatred against Governor Vance, while he had no hatred against Confederate soldiers who fought against him in many a field of blood and who were now fully reconciled to the consequences, still he could never vote for a bill that would have the name of that man who declared he never did anything that he would ask this d—d government to pardon him for.

Messrs. Sweet, Welker and Jones of Columbus followed in opposition to the motion.

Mr. Love said: I regret, most sincerely do I regret, that this motion has been made. It is not in keeping with the dignity that should characterize Senators. I have felt, and I try to cultivate the feeling, that the war is over, and to strengthen the hope, that the acrimony and bitterness of that unhappy period was dead, or at least too far extinguished to be rekindled. But I have erred, in indulging this fond hope.—The spirit of party proscription as evinced here to-day, is startling, and its rabid, vindictive character, is shocking. And who, Sir, is assailed? One of North Carolina's most gifted sons. He comes from my own mountain home—and hence I feel keenly, this little, petty, indecent exhibition of ill-timed malice. Thirty years ago, he is said to have been an uncouth rollicksome kind of a boy, in the humbler walks of life: but, as the boy emerged into manhood, talent and genius more than ordinary were evinced, that plainly marked the coming man. Step by step, he went upward, honored most by those who knew him best—honored for his integrity—his unblemished reputation, and his striking and remarkable ability, until he attained the highest position in the gift of North Carolina. And yet, Sir, after all this, we are to sit here to-day, in the Senate Chamber of North Carolina—and hear this man, Ex-Gov. Vance, traduced, and his unblemished character maligned by a stranger (Mr. Davis.)

Sir, if the Senator from Montgomery, (or I had better say from New Jersey) will bring his record here from Peapack, of which I know something, I would like to compare it with that of Governor Vance. (During the utterance of this sentence the President checked Mr. L. for indulging in personal reflections.)

Mr. Love said, then sir, I leave him (Mr. D.) in the mire of his own malice, to pay my respects to the author of this resolution. I regret sir, that the Senator from Yancey should feel himself—a western man—called upon to make this motion. For two or three years, he was a rebel soldier, fighting shoulder to shoulder with Gov. Vance for the "lost cause." Then he changed and went into the Federal army. This I suppose he had a right to do. But I submit sir, this motion comes with a bad grace, from an ex-Confederate soldier, especially when clothed, in a petty, malicious, vindictive garb.

I should add more, but the generous expressions of the Senator from Columbus, has partially allayed, the bitter feeling, this unexpected motion stirred up.

Mr. Lindsay arose again and said:

I don't propose to enter into any elaborate discussion of this subject, but when the yeas and nays were called for the purpose of pointing me out, I felt disposed to make some remarks on the subject. It is not for any petty malice against Governor Vance, it is not from any difference of political opinion between myself and Gov. Vance, and if any Senator on this floor suppose any such motives actuate me, I can only say he does me a great injustice; I believe he has been, and now is, one of the worst enemies of the true interests of North Carolina and of his country.

They talk about his fame. I am willing for future ages to decide whether he is entitled to any place in the temple of fame or whether his name should be damned by posterity for the course he has pursued. I am willing that future ages should decide it. But for Governor Vance thousands of the citizens of North Carolina would not be sleeping in bloody graves to-day, slaughtered on the battlefield. But for the course of Governor Vance this war would have ended sooner than it did. I have a son lying in the cold grave at Elmira, but for him in all probability he would be alive to day. I have known the course of this man. Does he accept the situation as other secessionists did? If he has done so it is certainly very recently. I have evidence at least that he is just as far from accepting the situation as ever. We cannot reach certain men, as Vance said, but we can ostracise and expel their wives and daughters from respectable society. We ought to do it and that is one of the men I propose to strike out here, not only on account of his former arbitrary and tyrannical course, but for his present declaration that reconstruction is an error.

Mr. Graham, I called for the yeas and nays on this question, that the people of the State might see, who wish to keep up strife in our midst, and thought that the war was not yet ended. The Senator from Rockingham like an old war horse pricked up his ears at the name of Vance and has failed entirely to understand the nature of this bill. It does not propose to incorporate a stock company, but merely to allow the individuals named with others, that may be added, to mutually insure their lives. I do not think a man with the good sense of the Senator from Rockingham would like to go home to his constituents and tell them he was unwilling for Vance to insure his life for the benefit of his wife and children. Is he willing to declare not only that the war is not ended, but that it must extend to the women. As to the question of social position the women will determine that for themselves—and you will never reconstruct them by such legislation as this. I am perfectly willing to leave this question to the Republican members of the Senate and especially those who were gallant soldiers in the Federal army and who continued steadfast to their principles. But it is said that Vance does not ask for pardon and wishes to destroy the Government. The Senator from Rockingham acknowledges that he is unfriendly to the present State Constitution and wishes it altered. Vance desires nothing more, for all the relations of life he is a good citizen. I well remember with what thrilling affect after our struggle was over he inculcated the duties of defeat. It is true that we do not see his name before Congress for removal of disabilities. Vance is neither able or willing to pay for it. When we find in the list men steeped to the chin aye even to the very top of their heads in secession what other conclusion can we draw than that money was used; you cannot make the people of the State believe otherwise. The better memories of our losses, I have no wish to recall. It was impossible for Vance or any one else to have stopped the contest. Some who, although opposed at the beginning, entered with zeal into the cause, got whipped very soon, and expected others to accomplish impossibilities, as long as heroism and unselfish devotion to a cause are regarded as virtues among men. You cannot strike Vance's name from the hearts of the people of North Carolina—though you may vent your spite in erasing his name from this bill, He fully accepts the situation, and is willing to accord to all the rights guaranteed by the Constitution; but as long as favors go for money, Gabriel will blow his horn before he puts in an application—but, says one, his day has departed; even if that were so, a generous foe would refrain from abuse. The animal mentioned in Æsops Fables, who kicked at the dead lion, has never enjoyed a very enviable reputation.

Mr. Robbins said he regretted, exceedingly, that the Senator from Yancey had made this motion, and he hoped he would see the propriety of withdrawing it, and gave way to Mr. Moore to withdraw the motion.

Mr Moore, of Yancey, desired to state his reason for making the motion. He and Z B. Vance had fought together during part of the war and Vance was one of the primary causes of driving a great many steadfast Union men into the rebellion to which he was himself (Mr. M.) for five and a half months. He would acknowledge that he followed Vance, an acknowledgement which he made to the Senator from Rowan when his political disabilities had been investigated. Since that time he had taken the wrong horn of the dilemma and he opposes the State government and the government of the United States, and by his conduct in other matters, deserved the reproach of the people, but at the request of several of his friends, he would withdraw the motion.

Mr. Shoffner called the previous question, which was sustained, and the bill passed its second reading by the following vote:

NAYS.—Messrs. Bellamy, Burns, Davis, Galloway, col., Lindsay, Long, Love, Moore, of Yancey, Smith, Stephens, and White.

NOTE.—Mr. Love in explanation of his vote said, he should vote against the bill to be consistent, as he had voted against all bills of this character, because he thought time and expense would be saved by the Companies getting their charters under the general incorporation act.

J. A Hyman, col., said he should vote for the bill because he felt he was indebted to Governor Vance and his friends for his seat in the Senate.

On motion the Senate adjourned.

The Senate was called to order at 10 o'clock.

PETITIONS.

By Mr. Stephens, petition from the practicing Pysicians of the county of Caswell. Referred.

By A. H. Galloway, col., petition from certain citizens of the county of Craven praying the General Assembly to adopt some means to define the authography of "Newbern." Referred.

BILLS INTRODUCED.

By Mr. Graham: Bill in relation to supplemental proceedings against persons indebted to Banks of this State, incorporated prior to May 1st, 1861. Placed on Calendar.

By Mr. Robbins: Bill to confirm the election of Municipal officers in the town of Mocksville. Passed its several readings under a suspension of the rules.

By Mr. Jones, of Wake: Bill to incorporate the town of Wake Forest. Referred.

THIRD READING OF BILLS.

Bill to enable the North Western North Carolina Railroad Company to complete the first Division of its Road. Passed.

Bill to incorporate the Policy Holders Life and Tontine Assurance Company of the South.

Mr. Graham moved the previous question on the passage of the bill, which failed for want of a quorum voting.

Mr. Love moved to amend the bill by making the private property of the stockholders responsible for the indebtedness of the Company, subsequently he withdrew it.

Mr. Lindsay renewed the motion to amend and he also withdrew it, and moved the indefinite postponement of the bill, which was voted down.

AYES.—Messrs. Beasley and Lindsay.—2 and the bill passed, those who voted against it are Messrs. Beasley, Colgrove, Flythe, Love, and White.—5.

Bill to authorize the County of Craven to issue bonds for the purpose of paying the present indebtedness of said County; passed.

Bill to prevent the sale of spirituous liquors within a certain limit of the Cape Fear Agricultural Fair Ground; passed.

Bill to authorize the Sheriff of Cumberland to collect arrears of taxes; passed.

Bill concerning townships in the Counties of Robeson and Gates; passed.

Bill to authorize the Commissioners of Wake to issue Coupon Bonds, passed.

Bill to authorize the Commissioners of Polk County to levy a special tax, passed.

The report of Messrs. Bragg, Phillips and Scott appointed to investigate alleged frauds in bonds issued for Railroad purposes was transmitted to the Senate. The report is quite voluminous covering 205 pages.

Mr. Jones of Mecklenburg, moved that 5 copies of the report be printed for the use of each Senator and that its further consideration be postponed to Thursday next.

Mr. Brogden moved to amend the motion to print by striking out 5 and insert 20 copies.

Mr. Cook moved that the printing be executed at the SENTINEL office.

Mr. Sweet moved to amend the motion by inserting, "and that the Committee be discharged."

Mr. Graham, said the report in reference to the Western Division of the Western North Carolina Rail Road was very indefinite. That the Treasurer of that Road had not been before the Committee, he thought the Committee should not be discharged until other efforts had been made to secure a full report.

Mr. Sweet offered a substitute for all the motions made, in the form of a resolution, that the report be received — no. of copies be printed and that the Committee be discharged.

The President decided the substitute out of order.

Mr. Cook appealed from the decision of the Chair, subsequently withdrew it.

The amendment of Mr. Brogden to print 20 copies was adopted, Cook's motion was voted down.

A. H. Galloway col. called the previous question, which was sustained.

Mr. Shoffner moved to adjourn, which was voted down.

Mr. Sweet's motion to discharge the Committee was voted down by the following vote.

The President voted in the negative.

The motion of Mr. Jones of Mecklenburg to postpone the further consideration of the subject to Thursday next, prevailed.

Mr. Sweet moved that the Committee be declared abolished to take effect on Monday the 14th inst.

The President ruled that the motion was out of order, as the Senate had just voted to postpone the whole subject to Thursday next.

Mr. Sweet appealed from the decision of the Chair, and the appeal was sustained.

Mr. Lindsay moved to amend substitute the 22nd inst. instead of next Monday.

Mr. Sweet made a lengthy speech in support of his motion to abolish the Bragg Committee.

Mr. Robbins replied in a few earnest and vigorous remarks in opposition to this motion. Among other things he said, I am utterly astounded, Mr. President, at the course of the Senator from Craven, and his apparent anxiety to have this Committee abolished. Until recently that Senator has occupied the position here of a friend to investigation. But the other day, when the Bragg Committee was in the very midst of the work, the Senator from Craven voted for a resolution to abolish it, and as it is understood, and not denied by him, he was the author of that resolution. That act of his surprised me, and many others. And, here, to-day, we see him entering upon a regular contest with the President of this body, and persistently, almost factiously struggling to carry his point and stop that investigation. I impugn no man's motives rashly, and will not impute a wrong purpose to the Senator in this matter. But I do say emphatically that I am surprised and that I cannot understand the reasons influencing the Senator. His course amaze me, and many others with me, and I think some explanation is necessary. Let that Senator explain and tell us what he means.

Mr. Sweet said he considered the appointment of that Committee by the President of the Senate as being contrary to the intentions of this body, and there was no precedent for such an act by the presiding officer. He thought also that the existence of the Committee was properly ended by the report just sent in. He said his course in seeking to disband the Committee the other day, arose from rumors as to the course the Committee was pursuing in regard to summoning witnesses. He warmly denied any improper motive in flouncing him in his course.

Mr. Jones of Wake got the floor at this point and declined to yield it to Mr. Robbins, and moved to adjourn—agreed to 18 to 17.

This article is much superior to the Peruvian Guano as a fertilizer. It contains a much larger percentage of bone phosphate and soda, and nearly as much Ammonia, its effects upon the land will be seen for years.

The following extracts from certificates received from those who used it last year upon Cotton will have the effect to remove the prejudice produced by the use of manufactured fertilizers, and give confidence in this home made article.

H. Lederman, Esq., of Bertie county N. C., writes: "I have used your Phosphate Fish Guano in equal quantities side by side with Peruvian Guano and found the product much in favor of your article, the weed was larger, Cotton heavier and the plant kept green through the dry summer."

MISTAKEN.—The Salisbury Examiner is mistaken in regard to the SENTINEL design ing to "poke fun" at that locality. We did not say, "city at the cross roads," but "city at the forks of the road." Now, there is a considerable difference in the significance of the two terms, in common acceptation. When we speak of "a cross road politician," or a "cross road groggery," or other institution of a cross road, the phrase is usually considered depreciative, but of a "fork road," the idea is different, especially when we allude to the fork of two great lines of Railroad, one leading off toward the fair sunny fields and orange groves of the South, the other into grand mountain regions of the West where the hill sides shake beneath the heavy tread of fat beef cattle, and the valleys flow with milk and honey. A city at the fork of such roads as these is not a subject to "poke fun" at, and when we say "delectable" we mean delectable, really and not ironically, and we hope the Examiner has no quarrel with us for using the term in earnest.

No; what we intended to "poke fun at," was the ungrounded complaint of the Local of the Examiner, of dull times for his vocation, when he had a cock fight, a man-fight and a dog fight all in one day to work on. We really considered the complaint funny.

The Tarboro Carolinian complains of the bad roads of Edgecombe. Several years ago we perambulated that county pretty thoroughly, and thought, then, they had the best roads of any county in the State. Bad roads, however, are not a peculiarity of Edgecome, at this era in our history; even the streets of Raleigh could enter the ring against Edgecombe roads, since the clay has been so plentifully spread over them.

AGRICULTURAL FAIR.—We learn from the Weldon News that arrangements are nearly completed for the formation of an Agricultural Society at Weldon, and the holding a Fair there next Fall. We expect to be there when it comes off.

The editor of the Salem Press saw a wagoner greasing his wagon wheels with butter, recently, the idea being to combine strength and reduction of friction.

Mr. Robert Quincy, of Warren county, was very badly hurt near Wilmington recently, by being thrown from a buggy which was upset by the horse running away.

There is said to be a negro woman living in Harnett county 114 years old. She has grand children 80 years old.

Sinking Slowly.

Diseases that progress rapidly to a crisis are not the only ones to be dreaded. Canker or dry rot does not blast a tree as suddenly as a stroke of lightning, but unless arrested, it destroys it as certainly; and in like manner chronic debility, although it does not kill with the swiftness of yellow fever, is as sure to sap the springs of life eventually as any acute disease, if not checked by invigorating medication. There is something inexpressibly touching in the spectacle of premature decay. Languor, pallor, emaciation, depression of spirits, and a distaste for exertion, are its ordinary symptoms, and they should be promptly met by tonic treatment. The best invigorant and exhilarant that can be administered in a case of this kind is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. The stimulating principle of the preparation rouses the dormant energies of the system, and the strengthening and regulating properties give a permanent and healthful impulse to the vital forces thus brought into play. The failing appetite is re-awakened, the process of digestion and assimilation are quickened, the quality of the blood is improved, the secretions become more natural, and every organ that contributes to the nourishment of the body undergoes salutary change. By these means the repair of the physical structure is effected and its health and vigor restored. In no class of diseases has the beneficent operation of the Bitters been more marked and striking than in those characterized by general debility and nervous prostration. Ladies affected with these ailments find in this most wholesome of [illegible] powerless to injure. Such is the uniform testimony of "crowds of witnesses."

AFFAIRS IN ALAMANCE.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES,
Raleigh, N. C. March 11th.

MR. BUTTON:—I deem it a duty I owe to myself as well as the people I have the honor to represent that I should say something in regard to the condition of things in the county of Alamance, and when I say that the late disturbance in the county is deplorable and regretted by all lovers of peace and quiet who have the future hopes and prosperity of the county at heart, I but express their sentiments in connection with my own, for I am firmly and unequivocally impressed with the belief that the voice of the great body of our people is "still for peace" and not for war or strife or bloodshed, and it is unjust and, I fear impolitic, for the sake of peace and order, to emblazon the county before the world as being in a state of insubordination and make it a field for military operations, because some unknown parties violates law, and when it is equally true, if these parties could be recognized that the civil authority is ample to make the arrests and bring the offenders to justice.

That Alamance county is in a state of insurrection or insubordination, in fact, to the civil authorities, I most emphatically deny, or that there has ever been a period in the history of the county when the civil officers were inadequate to the execution of law on any parties or combination of men recognized or suspected as being disturbers of the peace.

The Governor's informant was doubtless laboring under an excited imagination, as some instances referred to in his proclamation have no foundation in fact. He states that a citizen of Company Shops had to flee from home to protect his life, and during his absence an armed, disguised, band visited his house for the purpose, doubtless, of taking his life. As to the truth of the armed band visiting his house, there is not the least shadow of foundation. It is one of those prolific rumors incidental to times of high excitement, which have neither beginning, nor end nor purpose, save to kindle strife and discord, and place a community in a false light before the public. That there have been acts of lawlessness and violence committed in the county no one pretends to deny, however much it is to be regretted, and however damaging it may be to the well-being and prosperity of the county, its existence is not owing to the law or the inefficiency of the officers of the law, but for the want of a knowledge of the parties perpetrating wrong, and this want of knowledge will operate as disparagingly to the military as the civil authorities. If Alamance can be reconstructed according to the laws of war and her rights as civilians respected, then the people will assemble in solemn counsel, irrespective of party, and harmonize these bickerings and civil commotions which now threaten the county with anarchy and ruin, and these disturbance might have been adjusted on Saturday last by the proposed public meeting of all the citizens of the county, without regard to party, color or previous condition, and the honor and good name of the county preserved, if the military had been withheld until the voice of the people could have been heard, but when the people assembled and found other means had been resorted to, it destroyed the object and purpose of the meeting.

I do not doubt if the military could be withdrawn that the good people of both parties would meet together and accomplish more by a course of moral suasion than the military would ever be able to accomplish. Every man owes a duty to his country in restoring law and order out of chaos and confusion—for these civil commotions are but the stranded fragments and floating timbers of the great political wreck in the storm and tempest of revolution which the good men of the country by a discreet and proper application of their influence may calm and put to rest when the bayonet proves inadequate to the task.

The only safety for a government is in a strict observance and a faithful exercise of the laws. This is the main pillar of civil liberty, and when this fails to be the high aim and purpose of a people, the whole machinery of the government is deranged and neither life, liberty or property is secure. Our people are blessed with a peculiar heritage embellished by revolutionary memories, for within our borders are the "classic grounds of the Alamance," memorable in the pages of this country's history, which it is our duty to preserve, sustain and foster from the bloody waves of civil strife and discord.

I am very respectfully, &c.,
J. A. MOORE.

WARRENTON.—The editor of the Ridgeway Press was in Warrenton recently, and gives some account of what most attracted his attention while there. Speaking of the schools, he says:

"The Warrenton Female College, under the Presidency of Rev. Turner M. Jones, is in a flourishing condition, having upwards of ninety pupils. The faculty of this Institution is an able one and complete.

Mrs. M. J. Wilcox's (Episcopal) School for young ladies, is one of established reputation and doing well. Mrs. W. is assisted by Rev. M. M. Marshall, Mrs. V. L. Jones', assisted by Miss Twitty, is conducting successfully, a most excellent School, also for young ladies.

The Male Academy is one of Warrenton's oldest, and most honorable institutions.—Great men have been educated within its walls. It is now under the control of Mr. John E. Dugger, who is sustaining well the reputation of the Academy. As an instructor he is popular, and we are glad to learn is receiving a flattering patronage.

There are two colored schools, apparently prospering."

DIED,

In Madison County West Tennessee, on the evening of the 19th ult., MISS JULIA E. MARSH.

Truly death loves a shining mark. The sweetest flowers will fade and fall before winter's chilling blasts. A bright star has fallen from our social sky. There were many who loved its excellence, and admired its pure light, now its place is blotted out forever. Yet not forever, for in a better and more genial clime its luster and beauty shall blend with the glory of Omnipotence. Peace be with the dead; brothers may mourn the loss of a much loved sister, their pride and their ornament—relatives may grieve that a segment of their circle, that glittered with so much brightness is gone; but in their deepest woe there is a joy that mocks the power of words—there is a hope that gives life a recollection that is the parent of dreams woven of colors richer than those that dye the evening cloud. Friday Night Dispatches.

WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, March 11.—Revenue to-day $343,000.

A delegation from the National Banks is here lobbying against the funding bill.

SENATE.—The protest of the Georgia negro Legislators says: "They represent 90,000 negro voters of Georgia who, by the passage of this amendment, will be thrown down, bound hand and foot to their most bitter enemies; that the negro voters will be driven away from the polls."

On motion of Trumbull, the Georgia bill was made special order for to-morrow.

A motion for a Joint Committee on Indian Affairs was defeated by Colfax's vote.

The funding bill was resumed.

HOUSE.—The morning was consumed with private bills.

After a struggle between the friends of the deficiency and tariff bills, the tariff prevailed and the House went into the Committee of the Whole to consider it. After an hour's speech the deficiency bill was taken up; it aggregates $1,500,000, including amounts for repairs of Custom Houses.

LATER.—The Senate passed the funding bill by a vote of yeas 36, nays 10.

PENNSILVANIA.

OIL CITY, March 11.—A fire broke out to-day which, at one time, threatened to destroy the entire city, but was finally extinguished through the great exertions of the citizens, after burning a Railroad train and a number of tanks.

I am Agent for Monegan's celebrated brand of the Banker's Segar which beat the world for cheapness and fine flavor and can be procured no where else in the State, than from myself. Mine is the only establishment in North Carolina that you can procure the celebrated brands of Gravely chewing tobacco. Being confined exclusively to the segar and tobacco business, enables me to offer more superior goods and at lower prices than can be had elsewhere in Raleigh, small dealer will find it to their interest to call and examine my stock as I can beat the State in prices and in a line of goods suitable to the wants of their customers.

PRATT'S "ASTRAL" OIL.

UNLIKE MANY OTHER ILLUMINATING Oils, is perfectly pure, and free from all adulterations or mixtures of any kind. It emits no offensive smell while burning, gives a soft and brilliant light, and can be used with the same assurance of safety as gas. Chemists pronounce it the best and safest Illuminating Oil ever offered to the public; and Insurance Companies indorse and urge upon consumers the use of the "Astral" Oil in preference to any other. It is now burned by thousands of families, and in no instance has any accident occurred from its use; a lamp filled with it, if upset and broken, will not explode. To prevent cheap imitations, the "Astral" Oil is packed only in the Guaranty Patent Cans, of 1 gallon and 5 gallons each, and each can is sealed in a manner that cannot be counterfeited. Every package with uncut seal we warrant. Be sure and get none but the genuine article, Pratt's "Astra" Oil, for sale by dealers everywhere, and at wholesale and retail by the proprietors.

No Life Insurance Company in the United States offers superior advantages for Insurance or investment, than the St. Louis Mutual. It is managed by gentlemen of the highest capacity and standing and it enjoys the largest confidence of those acquainted with Insurance Companies.

Its Policies are liberal; its premiums moderate and made easy; its losses are paid promptly and the investments are made on the most solid basis, being principally in improved real estate worth before the amount insured, paying ten per cent. per annum.

All its Policies are non-forfeitable and participate in profits from the beginning.

Dividends declared and applied annually to policy holders on the contribution plan.

The Company is strictly Mutual, and the profits of its business are paid not to stockholders but to its policy holders.

An equitable surrender value paid to all who through misfortune are unable to keep up their policies.

IS A HOME COMPANY.

Owned and conducted by Southern men. It employs its funds at home for the benefit of Southern enterprises.

IT IS THE PIONEER COMPANY OF THE SOUTH, in all the new and liberal features of LIFE INSURANCE, presenting advantages not offered by any other Company, note the following points.

1st. Low Rates of Insurance, with a credit of one third, the Premium as a perpetual Loan.
2d. THIRTY DAYS GRACE for the payment of all premiums, and the Policy held good for that length of time.
3d. Policies Non-forfeiting after the first payment.
4th. Policies indisputable from any cause save fraud.
5th. No restrictions of Residence, Travel or occupation.
6th. It is a Mutual insurance Company, ninety four per cent of the Profits are divided among the insured, on the contribution plan, and as money commands higher rates of Interest in the South than North or East, the probability is almost certain that the dividends will exceed those of Northern Companies, this reducing the premiums to their lowest actual cost.

8th. This company issues policies guaranteeing six per cent. compound interest in addition to the insurance of the amount insured. The Globe has peculiar claims upon the Southern country, from having first introduced the non-forfeiting feature in all its policies. Its President, Mr. Pliny Freeman, was the inventor of the ten-year, non-forfeiture plan, and introduced it in the Company with which he was then connected.

The Globe takes no notes; but receives its premiums in cash, and pays its policies in cash, without deduction.

To those desiring it, the Company will issue policies, registered and certified by the Superintendent of the Insurance Department of New York, as "secured by pledge of public stock."

SUCCESS THE CRITERION!

THE BEST MANAGED IS THE BEST COMPANY!

DE SOTO MUTUAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY,

OF ST. LOUIS, MISSOURI.

JAMES P. LUCAS, President.

CAPITAL STOCK, (PAID UP,) $150.000.00!

Stockholders bound for Double the Amount of Stock!

$100,000 DEPOSITED WITH THE INSURANCE DEPARTMENT OF MISSOURI.

THE MOST SUCCESSFUL CASH COMPANY IN THE WEST!

The Stock of this Company is owned by the Capitalists of Louisville, Ky., and St. Louis, Mo. It is emphatically a Western and Southern Institution.

The DE SOTO has no desire to exalt its merits over those of other good Companies, nor to prosper on the decline of others, laboring in the same fields, and for the same grand object. Confident of its equal advantages with others, of whatever age or standing, it is willing to labor honorably for success, and hopes to deserve the public confidence by its energy, industry, and liberal spirit.

From the Missouri Republican.

"Few Companies have started out with such gratifying and flattering prospects of success, and under such favorable auspices. The Company has been extremely fortunate in the selection of its Directory. Its President, JAMES H. LUCAS, needs not a word of commendation from us. He enjoys a general reputation as a gentleman of wealth, unquestioned integrity, practical good sense, sound judgment and splendid business capacity.

The Directors rank among the first class of our merchants, bankers and citizens, as men of capital, financial ability and experience: men of probity and unblemished reputation. In the character of such a Directory, the community have the best guarantee that the business of the Company will be prudently and judiciously managed."

Policies issued on all the popular plans, and all Non-Forfeiting.

Policy-holders may travel by the usual modes of conveyance, either by land, river, lake or coastwise, in any portion of the United States and Territories, the settled portions of the two Canadas, Nova Scotia and New Brunswick, and in time of peace may cross and recross the Atlantic Ocean by the usual passenger routes to, and travel and reside within, any portion of Europe.

The Company has been well tested throughout the State, as to its promptness in paying her losses, reliability, &c.

DIVIDENDS PAID AT THE END OF THE FIRST YEAR, AND ANNUALLY THEREAFTER.

Its ratio of expense to income is extremely low. This may be seen by reference to the Official Reports for 1868. For example:

EXPENSE ON THE $100 RECEIVED.

KNICKERBOCKER,	$16,54
EQUITABLE,	17,44
NORTH AMERICA,	21,16
BROOKLYN,	21,09
UNIVERSAL,	27,24
JOHN HANCOCK,	18,27
THE NATIONAL,	63,48
THE ÆTNA,	13,41

It has an IMPORTANT NEW FEATURE that has been copy-righted. According to this plan the rates are MUCH LOWER than in any other Company in the world.

Its ratio of Mortality is low. Its rates are very low. Its expenses are very low. Its dividends are large.

It insured more lives in the City of New York in 1868, than any other Company, except one. It issued more Policies in the United States than any other save one. It insured more lives in Canada than any other Company, British or American.

See what the HIGHEST INSURANCE AUTHORITY in this country says. In the June number of the Insurance Times, of New York, the following opinion was expressed:

"If there is any great benefit in mutual association, any great advantage to be derived from scientific organization and a chartered source, tending to mitigate the sufferings, lessen the privations, and add to the peace, security, and happiness of humanity, we are prepared to show that these blessings flow, in all their fullness and purity, from this excellent, powerful, and flourishing Company, the ÆTNA LIFE, of Hartford."

"No institution has brought more prompt, full, and grateful relief to the hearths of the bereaved and desolate, and none has been more uniformly distinguished for the enterprise, wisdom, and equitable liberality with which it has fulfilled the purposes of its formation."

"Its success has been almost unbounded and beyond all precedent. Eight years ago, in 1861, it issued only 589 policies, received an income of seventy-eight thousand dollars, and possessed net assets amounting up to something over two hundred and eighty-one thousand dollars; but last year, 1869, it granted 18,337 new policies, more than any other Company, except the Mutual Life; received an income exceeding six million dollars, and had amassed solid, securely and profitably invested nett assets amounting to over Ten Million Three Hundred and Fifty Thousand Dollars. And this wonderful ratio of growth has been sustained in 1869."
